filled with policemen similarly dressed. Mrs. Johnson, who had also spent the night that she had been contradicted by her own witnesses. Justice Waish then discharged Policeman Hackett.

As Mrs. Johnson was about to go Police Captain Folk made a complaint of perjury against her, and she was sent back to Raymond street juil to await examination on Saturday next. Mrs. Johnson, on being removed to prison, still insisted that she was not under the influence of liquor on Monday night, and that Hackett was her assailant. As Policeman Casey's number is 119, and as in personal appearance he somewhat resembles Hackett, it is believed that Mrs. Johnson, in the confusion caused by drink and excitement, mistook Casey's number for 149, when she encountered him as she was leaving her uncle's, and that she retained his image upon her mind through the rest of her period of intoxication, believed him to be her assailant, and then selected Hackett because of his resemblance to Casey. She, however, swore in court that she never saw Casey before.

BEPARATED IN THE HONEYMOON. The Sad Death of a Young Husband whose

Bride and Strangely Left Him. The separation of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wesley Ayres in their honeymoon about three weeks ago, which, as related in Tur Sun at the time, caused a stir in fashionable circles in Astoria, has a sad sequel in the death of the young bridegroom at Fire Island on Monday morning. When his wife abruptly quitted the Thorburn House, where they were staying. leaving her wedding ring behind. Mr. Avres went home to his father, Mr. Theodore V. Ayres, and fell very sick. As he gradually graw worse he was taken to Fire Island on the 8th worse, he was taken to Fire Island on the 8th inst. for a change of air. He, however, continued to grow weaker until his death. His body was brought from Fire Island to the Ayres residence in Astoria.

Mrs. Ayres, whose maiden name was Hattie Cole, is well known in this city and Brooklyn as a piano player. Since the separation she has been most of the time at her father's house. Owing to her strange conduct, it was ber father's intention at first, after advising with the physicians, to send her to the asylum for the insane at Bloomingdale, where she could have quiet and rest; but he learned that his daughter could not be received in that institution unless a certificate signed by two qualified physicians and countersigned by a Judge of a Court of Record was produced certifying to her insanity. Mrs. Ayres had become quite herself again before she received the news of the death of her husband. The sad intelligence, it is said, has greatly affected her. It is understood that it was the intention, as soon as the condition of the young bridegroom would permit, to have a meeting letween them, with a view to a reconnillation. Mrs. Ayres is 21 years of age.

A Yacht which, Arriving as Freight, is Liable for Customs Duty.

The yacht Madge, owned by one of the rich thread makers, the Messrs. Coats of Paisley. Scotland, lay in the North River, between the Fulton and Dey streets piers, yesterday. It was shipped here as freight in the steamship Devonia, which arrived on Tuesday. A few days ago the business agent for the Messrs. Coats informed Deputy Collector Bartram of the Custom House of the coming of the yacht, with a view of ascertaining whether duties would be required to be paid on her. He said that the yacht was not here to be sold, but only for the purpose of entering into races. The Deputy purpose of entering into races. The Deputy Collector deckied that as she came into port as freight, she was dutiable as a manufacture of wood at the rate of thirty-five per cent on her value. The agent subsequently wrote to the Secretary of the Treasury, asking to have the wacht admitted free.

Secretary of the Treasury, asking to have the yacht admitted free.

The agent saw Collector Robertson in regard to the yacht yesterday. He said that he would like to move the yacht to Staten Island, as she was in danger of being injured at the North River wharves. A customs official suggested that the yacht might be classified as an article for exhibition, so as to be admitted free of duty. The agent was advised to telegraph to the Secretary of the Treasury for instructions on the application to have the yacht entered free. Until the Secretary has decided, the Madge will remain in the custody of the Custom House provided the owner's agent does not decide to reship her to Sectiand.

The only case like the Madge known at the Custom House was that of an English launch shipped here for the Centennial Exhibition. She was admitted free, and during the exhibition made trips on the Schuyikill River for pay.

TROY, Aug. 17 .- Municipal matters here are badly mixed. The Common Council is prohibited from meeting until a special election is held to fill the vacancies caused by the removal of the two Aldermen in the Fourth Ward by an act of the Legislature. The election cannot be held because one of the members of the Police Board, by which body inspectors of elections and poil clerks are appointed, is suspended from office, and it is impossible to get together a quorum of the Commission. There is also a vacancy in the Board of General Assessors, which cannot be filled until the Aldermen meet. The legality of the election of one of the persons who assumes to act as General Assessor is questioned, a circumstance which it is claimed by some will vitiate the assessment rolls on real and personal property just completed. To further confound this chaos, the Comptroller died this afternoon, and unless his successor is confirmed by the Common Council within sixty days the city will be without a functionary in that most important effice. Not one doilar can be paid out of the city treasury for any purpose without the Comptroller's signature. Matters will be still worse should Gov. Cornell remove Mayor Murphy on the charges now before him, as a vacancy in the Mayoralty can only be filled by the Common Council, and the Comptroller is appointed by the Mayor. The present state of sffairs is the result of the gross partisan legislation of last winter. a quorum of the Commission. There is also a lation of last winter.

The Souvenir which Mechanics' Hose 47 is to Present to Rambler Hose 3.

In a show window at 32 Avenue D is a hand "Mechanics' Hose 47 of New York to Rambier Hose 3 of Long Island City, as a token of friendship for their courtesy, exhibited on the eccasion of the raising of the old Mechanics' Bell, Nov. 1, 1880." The old bell stands out in bold relief, and on its right is the Mechanics' Hose cart on the cobblestone pavement faced by Rambier Hose on a country road. Beneath is Webb's old ship-Hose en a country road. Beneath is Webb's old shipyard, the carpenters on the bow, and the sawyers at work—a pleasing picture of shipbuilding in its palmy daya. Facing this is a smithy, with the sons of Vulcan hard at work, while Win Youngs's tool store and incchanles' headquarters are visible through the open-door of the force. A length of here attached to a hydrautencloses this interesting picture. Below is the tamous race between 47 hose, 44 emilie, and hook and ladder 13.
John Quigr is in command of the hose cart, which is rashing past the engine, the track being away in the rear. Beneath is the old house of Mechanics' Hose in East Fourth street, the door open, and "Major," the famous old fire due of twenty years ago, on watch for the boil to strike. Major served his time till the break up of the old volunteers, and Joined a company in Elizabeth,
S. J., where he died. A mechanic's arm bared below

HAVANA, Aug. 13.-The systematic frauds in all branches of the administration, amounting to fabr materially, but morally, as the perpetrators enriched by their rascalities, had already, by their extravagant and rec aleas style of living, commenced to pervert seciety in its very foundations. The energy of Governor-General Bianco put a stop to these negaritors proceedings. A scheme is on foct to present Gen Bianco with a testimonial, to be open for signifier by all who wish to contribute, expressing the teamks of the people for the energy he has devoted since he took charge of the Government, to clearing the different branches of the administration of corruption.

Ill Requited for a Good Deed. Thomas McKeen of 442 West Twenty-fifth street saw a man, who arterward said his name was Tracy, lying in a lumber yard, faint and sick, on Tuesday afternoon, helped him into his buggy, and learning his address, $26 West Twenty-sixth street, drove him to his home. As he came out of the house he was struck on the bead with a slungshot by Andrew Robinson of 256 Ninth, avenue. He fell, and when Mr. Hayer, a friend of his who was passing at the time, came to his assistance, he, too, was kneeded own by a chose thrown by a man who said his tiame was Durin. Both assisiants were arrested, and in the Jefferson Warket Police Chart yesterday Dunn was discharged and Robinson was held.

Edward Smith, aged 14, and George Green, aged 10, crawled into the basement of Dr. J. A. Weisse's house at 30 West Fifteenth street one evening last week. and stole a pair of shoes and half a sovereign belonging to the servant girl. Encouraged by their success they returned on Sunday, and tried to get in again, but the girl saw them and gave the slarm, and they ran away. On Tuesday they went back for the third time. They were seen chased and caught in Washington square. They told Justice Mergan yesterday that they had sold the shoes, chauged the half sovereign, and seens all the money for ice cream. They were held for trial.

Botrond Mills, Aug. 17.—John Richardson was found dead on his farm yesterday. Neighbors living at a short distance heard a short fired, and seeing smoke, they concluded that there was a fire at or near Richardson's. On going over they found that his simble had been hurned, together with a horse that was in it. Richardson's variable horse was taken out and a worthless horse put into the stable be ere it was hurned. Richardson's horse has been found, having been said in Eigin. No areats have yet been made.

SARATOGA, Aug. 17 .- T' o American Bar Association began its third annual session today. The President, the Hon. Edward J. Phelps of Vermont, presented the annual report, being, according to the constitution, an account of the most noteworthy changes of statute law on points of general interest made in the several States and by Congress during the preceding year. The report says: "South Carolina has passed a law against duelling, while Illinois. Arkansas, and Delaware have prohibited the carrying of concealed weapons. Pennsylvania prohibits the sale of weapons and gunpowder to minors. Michigan, Mississippi West Virginia, and New Jersey have allowed west Virginia, and New Jersey have showed persons on trial for murder to testify in their own behalf; and in New Jersey a wife can testify for a husband on trial. Laws against gambling and pool selling have been passed in West Virginia, Missouri, Colorado, Bhode Island, and Ohio. A law prohibiting the sale of obscene literature to minors has passed in Michigan, but adults may buy. Massachusetts allows the couris to exclude minors from their sessions."

The subject of woman's rights has received much attention. Vermont makes women eligible to school boards, and to vote for members. Married women carrying on business in their own name can sue and be sued. In Wisconsin a woman can sue in her own hame for personal injuries. In Mississippi and New Jersey a woman can testify in her own behalf in divorce proceedings. Missouri exempts a husband from liability for debts of the wife contracted before marriage. These and other laws seem to make marriage a qualified partnership.

There has been a large crop of railway legislation. Nebraska prohibits charging any higher rates of freight than were charged on Nov. 1, 1880, and no discriminating rates for freight are to be allowed. Maine has a similar law. Missouri requires every railroad to provide well-lighted and warm waiting rooms at all stations. to be allowed. Maine has a similar law. Missouri requires every ratiroad to provide well-lighted and warm waiting rooms at all stations, and to give sufficient accommodations for freight and passengers. Alabama has an elaborate law for the regulation of railways. More than a just compensation is declared to be extertion, punishable by fines. Whether extertion or discrimination regarding freight has been made is a question for a jury.
